

PROMISED LAND

BY PETER GRIFFITH

Ravi has crossed the world to find a new home, away from the horror and bloodshed of war-torn Zurgistan. Acquiring asylum in Great Britain is difficult enough. But when Ravi is finally accepted as a refugee, his problems really start. He and his mother are accommodated on a run-down estate on the outskirts of one of England's big cities – an estate dominated by a racist gang...

